“ His Journey's Just BegunDon't think of him as gone away-His journey has just begunLife holds so many facets The Earth is only oneJust think of him as restingFrom the sorrows sand the tearsIn a place of warmth and comfortWhere there are no days and yearsThat how he must be wishingThat we could know todayHow nothing but our sadness can really pass awayAnd think of him as livingIn the heart of those he touchedFor nothing loved is ever lostAnd he was loved so much

“ Such a sad time. Such a loss to our teenage community. Corbin was loved by so many...he was such a pleasure to work with , an amazing smile, amazing personality. His work ethics were to do your job, have fun too and he did it well. I would give him a $5 now n then and he was so thankful. I appreciated him and his helping me. To Corbins Family...many hugs and prayers are with you. So very very sorry . RIP Corbin..thought the world of you.

“ Me and Corbin had first hour study hall, and let me tell you there was no other kind soul like him, we joked constantly or would just sit there and vibe to music which he had a great taste in and put me on to a couple of good songs. He will be forever missed

“ Corbin and I were not really all that close. We were lunch buddies and in the hallways. We always made each other laugh constantly. Not even little giggles. It was to the point where we both look like idiots to everyone else because we were wheezing. We made jokes to each other in the hallway, and would talk. He was always kind and generous to me. He texted me last week sticking up for me because people were ripping on me about my girlfriend. He truly will be missed and is and always will be an amazing person. R.I.P dude
