“ Thank you, Morgan. My father-in-law often spoke over the years about how he enjoyed driving the school bus. It's funny that you mention the horseplay, because he would talk about that too - - that he had to be strict for safety reasons. But he liked being with the kids. He would have been pleased that you remembered him.

“ I had the privilege of having Mr. Chance as my grade school bus driver in the mid Eighties. He drove for the Parkview school district. I remember him as a stern driver who didn't tolerate horseplay on his bus, but he was easy to talk to and pleasant. My condolences to his family.
