“ Jennie and I attended Durand Schools and were close friends in high school. I remember spending quite a few Friday nights at their home and going to Monroe the next day for shopping. I remember her playing the saxophone in band. We lost touch for several years as I lived out of the area, but about a month ago I was able to find her and called her.

Jennie's family has my deepest sympathy. I am sure the many happy memories you shared will be of comfort to you in the days ahead.
