I can still see Virginia working on the books at the lumber yard. We were building our house and ever Saturday needed something from the lumber yard. And every Saturday Virginia would be there, she would stop her book work to help us or just to say hi. I can still see her standing there. She was part of the lumber yard just as much as the lumber was. To all of her family, may you have many memories to help you during this sad time. God bless all of you. Doug and Kathy
